Received a call from Daniel. I arrived onsite and start diagnosing. Found the air pressure to the top HDM valve that controls the shuttle operation weaker than usual. Traced the air pipe to the main regulator valve. Diagnosed the main regulator valve and found that the valve that relieves the air pressure. Found the pressure relieve valve faulty. I removed the valve from the system in order to get production going. This valve needs to be replaced ASAP.

Tested the machine and found the solenoid valve on the pusher arms leaking air from the breather. Replaced the solenoid valve and the machine was fully operational.
